What Does Chicken Roulade Have to Do with A Successful Career?

Watching Chuck Shattuck cook is a thing of beauty—especially his famous Chicken Roulade. He takes great care preparing the chicken breast before breading it and mixing the spinach, onion and bleu cheese filling. While the roulade bakes, you can smell the fragrant chicken stock and white wine sauce as it thickens. For the finishing touch, Chuck lays the chicken on a bed of creamy mashed potatoes and floats it all gently in a pool of the light and aromatic sauce. He serves it with what his wife calls “the world’s best Caesar salad,” made with his own twist of freshly tossed ingredients. A feast to behold—and even better to eat.

Chuck thinks quality family time should begin in the kitchen and end with a good meal!

The Recipe for Success

To Chuck, cooking is about attention to detail, care, commitment and creativity. These are the essential ingredients that make all the difference. Whether in the kitchen, in business, or simply life itself, Chuck truly believes this is the recipe for success. Chuck’s time as a cook in the United States Army has clearly become a lifelong passion for him.

When this hardworking professional isn’t helping his clients with their important investments or in the kitchen whipping up a culinary delight for family and friends, he loves to put on a pair of skis and slice his way downhill on a powder-packed mountain slope. There’s something about the fresh air, the excitement and the challenge that gets Chuck’s adrenaline going. He also is enthusiastic about giving back to his community; he’s a member of the Lincolnshire Morningstar Rotary and is on the Board of Directors of Old School Montessori. No matter what he’s doing, Chuck always provides just the right ingredients to help.
